Chorus 1
D                   G    A            D               Bm
 From where the sun rises even to the place it goes down,
               Em       A         D
We're giving You praise, giving You praise;
                G       A                   D            Bm
From sun-kissed islands, and even where the cold wind blows,
               Em     A           D
We're giving You praise, giving You praise.

Verse
A                                                 D
Even in the night when the sun goes down we're giving You praise
A                                                G           D   A
Passing it along as the world goes round we're giving You praise

Chorus 2
D                  G    A                D            Bm
 We're lifting our faces, looking at the One we all love,
               Em      A          D
We're giving You praise, giving You praise;
               G    A                   D         Bm
All colors and races, joining with the angels above
               Em     A           D
We're giving You praise, giving You praise.
