Give My All Chords (Key of F)

by Planetshakers - Andy Harrison and Joth Hunt

https://worshipchords.com/give-my-all-chords/

```
Verse 1
                                                                                                                  Fm
I'll bring my best praise
                                                                                                     Ab
And I'm ready to give it all to You
                                                                                                                         Fm
I'll bring my whole heart
And I'm ready to pour it out on You
                                                                  Fm
I bring my energy and passion % \left( 1\right) =\left( 1\right) \left( 1\right) +\left( 1\right) \left( 1\right) \left( 1\right) +\left( 1\right) \left( 1\right)
You're worthy of nothing less
                                                                                                                                                      Ab /C Db
                                                                           Fm
Your love is stirring me to action
So I'm going to give my best
Chorus
                                                                        Db
      I give my all to You
 'Cause You are worth it, Lord You deserve it
                                                          Db
                                                                                                     Fm
I give my all to You
All of my passion, my heart's reaction
                                                                                   Db
                                                                                                                                                                                         Eb
You have it all, You have it all, You have it all
                                                                                    Db
                                                                                                                                                                                           Eb
You have it all, You have it all, You have it all
Tag
                                                                                                                                                      Fm Ab /C Db
                                                                        Db Eb Fm
You have it all hey
                                                                        Db Eb Fm
                                                                                                                                                      Fm Ab /C Db
You have it all hey
Verse 2
                                                                                     Fm Db
                                                                                                                                                                                                                               Ab
I bring a new song, and I'm going to sing it out to You
                                                                                                Fm Db
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 Ab
I bring a fresh love, I'm trading the old in me for new
                                                                                                     Ab /C Db
I bring my energy and passion
You're worthy of nothing less
                                                                                                                                               Ab /C Db
                                                                         Fm
Your love is stirring me to action
So I'm going to give my best
 [Chorus]
```

```
Verse 3
[Tag]

Db

Eb

Fm
Eb

As I praise and lift Your name the walls come down

Db

Eb

F
Eb

I celebrate, Your freedom reigns, it's breaking out

[Chorus]

[Tag]
```