When she's crying, when she's hurting
When she's fallen and can't go on
When she's broken into pieces
In her mourning's lost her song

Who will help the church, the one that Christ loves
Who will rise up, who will rise up
How long will we wait, how much will it take
Who will rise up, who will rise up

When she's crawling through the ash-es
And she's callin' out for help
When she's reaching from her kneeling
She needs strength now beyond herself

For every sister on her knees
We'll show the mercy we've received in our lives
And all the world will finally see
The love that makes a family
If He's alive in you and me, we will rise
